

ADVANCES IN FINANCIAL EDUCATION

---

VOL. 4

CONTENTS

SPRING 2006

---

- 1 A Multidisciplinary and Student-Centered Approach to Teaching Quantitatively in Introductory Finance by Elizabeth J. Yobaccio, Kristin T. Kennedy and Phyllis Schumacher
- 14 Using Student Consumer Debt to Enhance Financial Education
by Fran Wolf, Jeff Heinfeldt and Rebecca L. Finnick
- 22 A Empirical Study of the Effectiveness of a Portfolio Simulation in an Undergraduate Investments Class at a State University
by Frank Andrews
- 39 Finance Assessment that Works for Everyone by Kathy Czyrnik and Mary Cutler
- 48 Rates of Return: Understanding Average and Geometric Growth Rates
by Saul W. Adelman and Mark L. Cross
- 56 University Finance Faculty in the Middle School Classroom: Using a Portfolio Management Project to Integrate Teaching, Research, and Service by Susan J. Crain, David R. Goodwin, Pamela Herd, Gay A. Ragan and Kent P. Ragan
- 73 Using Corporate Valuation as a Teaching Technique to Emphasize Value
Based Management by Ralph Sandler and Andrew Sharp
- 89 A Ranking of Teaching Quality in Finance Departments Based on Contributions in Financial Education Literature by Kam C. Chan and Samanta B. Thapa
- 97 The Manager's Guide to Big Macs by Robert Grosse and Adrian E. Tschogl
- 112 Incorporating Life Cycle Analysis into Discount Valuation Models Using a Simulated Logistic Function by Michael D. Mattei, Joan Combs Durso and Daniel L. Bauer
- 126 Correction (Affiliations): Publication vs. Citation: Impact on Scholarly Contribution published Fall 2005

Financial Education Association